

International Rescue Committee and Survive & Thrive Advocacy Center Presents:

VOICES FROM THE FIELD

Working with Survivors of Human Trafficking- Successes, Setbacks, & Surprises

- In Florida, the International Rescue Committee (IRC) has anti-trafficking efforts in South Florida through their Miami office and in Florida's Panhandle with a Tallahassee team. The IRC's team in the Panhandle works in its Tallahassee office and collaborates with The Survive and Thrive Advocacy Center (STAC). During this webinar, the IRC's Anti-Trafficking Caseworkers and STAC's Community Services Advocate will delve into the intricacies of trauma-informed services and survivor-centered work with individuals who have experienced sex trafficking, labor trafficking, or both. Presenters will share their experiences and expertise including successes, setbacks, unexpected hurdles, and surprises they have encountered while navigating various systems and working to meet survivors' needs.
