

The Hardworking Kappa Epsilon Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. Presents

Event Name: Order to Combat Trafficking

Date: March 25, 2025

Event Coordinators: Soror _____

Advisor Coverage: Soror Jefferies

Report time: 5:00PM

Time: 6:13 PM - 7:30 PM

Location: Student Union 2213

Attire: Black Nalia + Blue Jeans

Expectancy: 40

Programmatic Thrust: International Awareness & Involvement

Overview: This event will provide expert-led training to help participants recognize and respond to trafficking situations. Attendees will learn to identify red flags, understand traffickers' tactics, and legal policy. This event will also include the "Red Alert" Courtroom Challenge, an interactive activity where teams analyze real-life scenarios to develop practical intervention skills. Attendees will leave with a better understanding of what human trafficking is, how to protect themselves, and ways that they can help survivors.

Wow Factor: A huge legal case file that says "The People vs. Human Trafficking". The Case number will be the event date so "03252025". The verdict will say Guilty; Sentenced to Awareness & Action.

Tangible: The tangible for this event will be a mini manilla folder that reads "case closed" on the front in red. In the inside there will be a laminated card with information about how to know the signs of human trafficking specifically for college students

6:13 PM	Soror __	“Good evening everyone, I am __”
6:14 PM	Soror __	“And I am __”
6:15 PM - 6:17 PM	Soror __	“We would like to thank you all for coming to the Order to Combat Trafficking.” “If everyone could please scan the qr code on the screen to check in for tonight's event.”
6:17 PM - 6:30 PM	Soror __	“Thank you” “For our icebreaker tonight we will be reflecting on what freedom really means. On your table, you’ll find a list of freedoms. Your task is to rank them in order of importance as a group. What do you feel is the most vital freedom and what’s the least important? Once you’ve ranked them, take a few minutes to discuss as a group why you placed each freedom where you did” The ability to choose where to live The ability to choose where to work The freedom to travel wherever you want The right to make decisions about your own body

		The right to safety and security in your community The freedom to speak freely and express your opinions
6:31 PM – 6:36 PM	Soror __	“Thank you all for participating in that icebreaker. Would any groups like to share how they ranked the list of freedoms” call on 2 groups
6:36 PM – 6:40 PM	Soror __	“Thank you all for sharing what you discussed” “Human trafficking is a global crisis, and it's happening in our own communities, particularly affecting young women and women of color. Today, we're here to learn how to recognize the warning signs, support survivors, and take action against trafficking”
6:40 PM - 6:43 PM	Soror __	“Before we begin, I want to share some critical statistics to emphasize why this issue is so urgent. There are over 27.6 million victims of human trafficking worldwide. In the U.S. alone, 70% of trafficking victims are women and girls, with women of color disproportionately affected”
6:43 PM – 6:46 PM	Soror __	“It's important to understand that many trafficking cases don't involve strangers in dark alleys. Often, victims are trafficked by someone they know, such as a family member, a partner, or someone who pretended to offer help”
6:47 PM - 6:50 PM	Soror __	“Human trafficking isn't just one thing, it manifests in various forms” “One form is Sex Trafficking, where victims, often young women and girls, are coerced into commercial sex acts through threats, manipulation, or violence.”
6:50 PM - 6:52 PM	Soror __	“There is also Labor Trafficking, where individuals are forced to work under exploitative conditions

		with little to no pay, often through fraud, coercion, or debt bondage” “Another form of trafficking is Domestic Servitude, where victims are forced to work in private homes, isolated and unable to leave”
6:52 PM - 6:54 PM	Soror ___	“And the last form of trafficking that we will discuss is Child Trafficking, where minors are exploited for labor, sex, or other illegal activities”
6:54 PM - 6:56 PM	Soror ___	“These numbers are not just statistics; they represent real people whose lives have been stolen by traffickers. Vulnerable individuals facing poverty, unstable housing, immigration challenges, or past trauma are often the primary targets”
6:56 PM - 6:58 PM	Soror ___	“Awareness and education empower us to prevent trafficking and support survivors” “To deepen our understanding and explore how we can take action, I’d like to introduce our expert panel”
6:58 PM - 7:00 PM	Soror ___	Please welcome: Michelle Spaven: The acting United States Attorney Beth Bascom: Retired TPD detective who specializes in human trafficking (currently the criminal justice coordinator at the Pat Thomas Law Enforcement Academy) Robin Hassler Thompson: Executive Director of the Survive and Thrive Advocacy Center

		Sameer Jain: Survivor & Survive & Thrive Advisory Council Member
7:00 PM - 7:30 PM	Panel Discussion	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. What are some of the biggest misconceptions about human trafficking, and how do they impact efforts to combat it? 2. What warning signs should people look for to identify potential trafficking situations, and what should they do if they suspect trafficking is occurring? 3. How do traffickers manipulate and control their victims, and what makes certain individuals more vulnerable to exploitation? 4. What are the biggest challenges in prosecuting traffickers and ensuring justice for survivors? 5. How can communities, including students and young professionals, play an active role in prevention and supporting survivors? 6. For survivors of trafficking, what are the most critical resources and support systems needed for recovery and rebuilding their lives? open the floor for additional questions
7:30 PM - 7:32 PM	Soror __	“Thank you to our panelists for sharing their invaluable insights and expertise” “Now it’s time to put that knowledge into action. In the next activity, you’ll work in teams to analyze real-life inspired scenarios, identify red flags, and determine the best course of action”
7:33 PM -	Activity	Scenario: Your close friend, a 19-year-old college

7:50 PM		student, has recently started dating an older man who seems very controlling. She has stopped showing up to class regularly, rarely responds to messages, and avoids hanging out like she used to. You've noticed that she's being picked up and dropped off by the same car at odd hours, often near hotels or unfamiliar locations. Lately, she has expensive new clothes and accessories but gets defensive or shuts down when you ask how she's affording them. You're starting to worry, what red flags stand out, and what should you do to help her?
7:50 PM - 7:55 PM	Soror __	"Thank you all for participating in that activity and for being here tonight. Your participation is a crucial step in raising awareness and combating human trafficking. Let's continue to stay informed, take action, and support survivors in our communities."
7:55 PM - 8:00 PM	Active Chapter	Clean up & Depart
